The Trust recognises that the experiences and needs of every individual are unique and strives to respect and value the diversity of its patients, service users and staff.

Everybody has a right to be treated with dignity and respect, and the Trust recognises its legal duties under the Equality Act 2010 and the Human Rights Act 1998.

The Trust is committed to creating a culture in which equality, diversity and human rights are promoted actively and unlawful discrimination is not tolerated.

This policy will be amended as appropriate to meet the requirements of legislative and/or regulatory changes.

2. Purpose

This policy sets out the Trust's commitments to equality, diversity and human rights and its obligations under equalities legislation (Equality Act 2010) and the Human Rights Act 1998. It also describes the roles and responsibilities of individuals and groups in ensuring the Trust fulfils its commitments and obligations.

3. Scope

This policy applies to all employees and volunteer staff, contractors, locums, holders of honorary, research or fixed term contracts, agency staff, students and other learners working within the Trust.

The policy is applicable while at work or on work premises. The policy also applies outside work where the activity or situation can be associated with work – for example, team social events, staff transport, social networking. The Trust will also work with contracting partners to have similar aims.

Breaches of this policy by employees as described above will be regarded as misconduct and could lead to disciplinary proceedings.

The principles and provisions of this policy are also applicable to patients, service users, carers and visitors whilst on Trust premises or whilst receiving care from the Trust.

4. Definitions

5. Duties, Roles and Responsibilities

The Trust has a moral and legal responsibility for promoting equality and human rights, valuing diversity and tackling discrimination. It has a statutory responsibility to have due regard to the Equality Act 2010 and the Human Rights Act 1998. The NHS Constitution also specifies that NHS organisations look after the wellbeing of their patients and workforce.

5.2 Executive Directors, Senior Leaders and all Managers

All managers are expected to visibly promote equality, diversity and human rights within the Trust and within their teams, supporting their staff to work in culturally competent ways in an environment free from discrimination. In addition to the responsibilities of all staff as set out below, they have a particular responsibility to ensure:

- Diversity and inclusion is encouraged and supported within their teams.
- All staff within their area of responsibility are appropriately trained and competent in equality, diversity and human rights.
- Staff who experience discrimination from patients, visitors or other staff, are supported.
- Unacceptable behaviours are challenged and there is a climate where issues can be raised without the fear of reprisals, using the Dignity at Work Policy and Leadership Behaviours as guidelines.
- An environment exists in which staff are able to identify and share good practice, celebrate success and encourage positive attitudes towards diversity.
- Adherence to equality legislation and Trust policy; being familiar with the implications on employment practice, including recruitment and selection processes.
- An equality impact assessment of all change programmes prior to implementation to measure impacts and benefits, and mitigate against negative disproportionate impacts found is undertaken.
- Transparent, fair and equitable decisions on promotion or incremental pay increases and staff development.

5.4 Equality & Diversity Group

The Equality & Diversity Group will provide assurance to the Workforce & Organisational Development Board. It also has responsibility for supporting development and delivery of the Trust's equality & diversity strategic objectives and for providing support and leadership across the Trust to develop a culture that values and improves staff and patient experience and puts equality, diversity and human rights at the heart of all its business.

5.5 Patient Inclusion & Diversity Group

The Group's activities support the Trust in meeting the general and specific duties of the Equality Act 2010 and the Trust's equality & diversity strategic objectives as they relate to patients.

5.6 All Staff

Each member of staff is responsible for their own behaviour. All staff are expected to:

- Treat all individuals with respect and dignity, in line with Trust values, and recognise and value individual skills and contributions.
- Be aware of the potential impact of our behaviour on other people.
- Support colleagues who face discrimination from patients, visitors or other staff.
- Be responsible for challenging unwanted behaviour at the first instance, if it is appropriate and we are able to do so.
- Understand our role in promoting equality and diversity and human rights.
- Have a basic understanding of equality, diversity and human rights, demonstrated by completion of the Trust's Equality, Diversity & Human Rights Training as required as part of essential training.

5.7 The Equality & Diversity Officer

The Equality & Diversity Officer is responsible for:

- Advising the organisation on requirements and performance against equality legislation;
- Supporting the Trust with setting and achieving equality & diversity strategic objectives;
- Working with key stakeholders to deliver the Trust's equality and diversity strategic objectives, the annual Equality and Diversity Report, and other required reporting.

5.8 Human Resources, Trade Unions/Staff Side and Staff Forums

help to ensure that the Trust's Equality, Diversity and Human Rights Policy is applied reasonably and fairly.

5.9 Patients/Service Users/Carers/Visitors

Patients, service users, carers and visitors are expected to be respectful to all staff and other patients/service users.

Patients, service users, carers and visitors who are verbally or physically abusive or who make derogatory statements that are of a discriminatory nature to any staff or other service users should be aware that they will be challenged about their behaviour

Where appropriate, the Trust may consider limiting or withdrawing the provision of services and may seek to prosecute individuals where it deems it necessary. Please refer to the Trust's Conflict Resolution Policy for more details.

5.10 Responsibility for Monitoring Compliance

The Workforce & Organisational Development Board is responsible for monitoring compliance with legal and regulatory reporting.

The Trust's Equality and Diversity Officer is responsible for reporting, supported by the Trust's Equality & Diversity Group. Ensuring the dignity and maintaining respect for patients and staff is a core principle of the Trust. Promoting equality, diversity and human rights whilst challenging any form of inequality, discrimination and harassment are central to the Trust's Values:

Respecting Everyone

Embracing Change

Recognising Success

Working Together

The Trust recognises that everyone is different and has something unique to offer. The Trust respects these differences and works to support and harness individual talents.

The Trust will not tolerate discrimination under any circumstances and particularly because of a protected characteristic.

The Trust will not tolerate bullying or harassment under any circumstances and particularly because of a protected characteristic. The Trust has a separate Dignity at Work Policy (incorporating Bullying & Harassment at work).

The Trust is fully committed to adherence to the Equality Act 2010 and undertaking action under the Public Sector Equality Duties, as defined within the Act. The Trust is also committed to fulfilling its regulatory obligations as set out in the NHS Standard Contract.

As a provider of healthcare in a diverse community, the Trust will seek to work in partnership with a diverse group of stakeholders in order to improve access to services for our local communities and achieve better health outcomes for all irrespective of their protected characteristic.

6.2 Equality, Diversity and Human Rights in Employment Procedures and Practices

Good employment practice is key to the Trust's commitment to creating a culture in which equality, diversity and human rights are promoted actively and unlawful discrimination is not tolerated.

(a) Recruitment and selection

All jobs, secondments and fixed term posts will be advertised so that there are equal opportunities for all interested persons to apply. An exception to this applies when special arrangements are made for those employees who would otherwise be at risk of redundancy or redeployment on the grounds of ill health or organisational change.

All advertisements will include an appropriate short statement on the principles of equal opportunities.

Person specifications will reflect the requirements which are necessary for the effective performance of the job.

At least one member of a recruitment and selection panel must have undertaken recruitment manager training or been formally accredited for prior learning before conducting interviews.

The Guaranteed Interview Scheme is in place to support those with a disability (as defined in the Glossary in Appendix A) who are seeking employment. This means that any applicant with a disability who meets the essential criteria for the post will be offered an interview.

The requirements of job applicants and existing members of staff who have, or have had a disability, will be reviewed to ensure that, wherever possible, reasonable adjustments are made to enable them to enter into or remain in employment with the Trust. Work Health Assessments are carried out in line with national NHS Employment Check Standards.

(b) Genuine Occupational Requirements (GOR)

It is ONLY lawful to take positive action in recruitment in favour of certain protected characteristics in defined situations. Where the nature of employment means that being of a particular sex, having a particular racial, ethnic or national origin, or being disabled is a genuine and determining occupational requirement – it is lawful to discriminate in these circumstances.

For example: an organisation for deaf people might legitimately employ a deaf person who uses British Sign Language (BSL) to work as a counsellor to other people whose preferred language is BSL.

Evidence must be provided in all cases where such an occupational requirement is deemed to be applicable and this must be clearly stated in all recruitment activity.

(c) Training and Development

All staff will access training in equality, diversity and human rights as part of the Trust's essential training as directed by the Trust's Essential Training Core Group.

All staff will be appraised annually and this will involve a discussion to identify available and appropriate training opportunities. Training programmes will be designed to support the aims of this policy. Wherever practical, training will be arranged so that all categories of staff, including part-time and shift workers, may attend.

(d) Cultural and Religious Needs

The Trust will accommodate cultural and religious needs of employees wherever they are compatible with the safe and efficient running of the service. The Spiritual and Pastoral Care Team provide support and guidance to patients, relatives and staff in the Trust.

(e) Disability/physical/sensory impairment

If a member of staff has a physical/sensory impairment or disability or a long-term health condition that places them at a disadvantage, then reasonable adjustments can be made, working in partnership with Occupational Health and their line manager, and external bodies where appropriate.

6.3 Working Environment

The Trust is committed to ensuring that every member of staff has a working environment which promotes dignity and respect, and where individual differences and the contributions of staff are recognised and valued. This is reflected in the Staff Conduct Policy, issued to all staff and also available on HR Web, and the Dignity at Work Policy (incorporating bullying & harassment at work).

Allegations of harassment or discriminatory action by patients, relatives, staff on staff, service users or members of the public towards staff, will be taken very seriously and action will be taken by the appropriate manager to support the employee and eliminate the problem using the Trust's Dignity at Work Policy (incorporating bullying & harassment at work).

The master document is controlled electronically. Printed copies of this document are not controlled. Document users are responsible for ensuring printed copies are valid prior to use.

6.4 Languages

All staff are expected to be competent in English – this is essential for good communications between staff, with patients, visitors and carers, and for health & safety reasons. The Trust respects that a number of our staff speak English as a second (or other) language. All staff are free to speak to one another in their preferred languages while off duty or informally in the conduct of their duties (being mindful of colleagues who do not share the language in which they are speaking). However, English should be spoken at all times when patients are present.

6.5 Grievance and Disciplinary Procedures

Any person who feels that they have been treated less favourably than others in the same circumstances has the right to use the Trust's Grievance Procedure to seek redress. All complaints and grievances in respect of equal opportunity issues will be thoroughly investigated and dealt with fairly and consistently.

Discriminatory behaviour on any grounds, particularly in relation to a protected characteristic, or any breach of this policy will not be tolerated and may result in disciplinary action up to and including dismissal in accordance with the Trust's disciplinary procedure.

Information about both of these policies and procedures including monitoring is on HR Web.

7. Monitoring and Assurance

The Trust's Equality and Diversity Group monitors progress against the Trust's equality & diversity strategic objectives and regulatory requirements. Findings are reported 6-monthly to the Workforce & Organisational Development Board and Quality & Outcomes Committee, and annually to the Trust Board.

The Group is chaired by the Head of Organisational Development and membership includes

- Divisional representatives;
- Members of the Joint Union Committee;
- Leads from the Trust Staff groups – the Black, Asian and Minority Ethnic Staff Forum, the LGBT Forum, and the Living and Working with Injury and Impairments Group.

10. Appendix A – glossary of terms

10.1 Accessible Information Standard

The Accessible Information Standard tells organisations how they should ensure that disabled patients receive information in formats that they can understand and they receive appropriate support to help them to communicate.

10.2 Disability

The general definition of disability for the purposes of the Equality Act 2010 is a physical or mental impairment that has a 'substantial' and 'long-term' negative effect on a person's ability to carry out normal day to day activities.

10.3 Disability Confident Scheme

Disability Confident is a scheme that is designed to help recruit and retain disabled people and people with health conditions for their skills and talent. The Trust is an accredited Disability Confident Employer.

10.4 Discrimination

Discrimination is defined within the Equality Act 2010 under five main headings:

- Direct Discrimination is where a person or a group of people are treated less favourably than another on the grounds of their protected characteristics.
- Indirect Discrimination is when a provision, criterion or practice is applied in a way that creates disproportionate disadvantage for people of a particular protected characteristic
- Perceptive discrimination is when someone is discriminated against because others think they have a protected characteristic
- Associative discrimination is when a person is discriminated against because they are associated with another person who has a protected characteristic
- Victimisation is when an individual is treated less favourably because they have complained about discrimination or have supported someone else to make a complaint.

10.5 Equality Act 2010

The Equality Act 2010 came into force on 1st October 2010. It brings together over 116 separate pieces of legislation into one single Act. Combined, they make up a new Act that provides a legal framework to protect the rights of individuals and advance equality of opportunity for all. You can read the whole Act on the Legislation.gov.uk website.

10.6 Equality Analysis (Equality Impact Assessment – EIA)

This assesses the impact on patients, service users and/or staff of a proposed strategy, service development or change, consultation, policy or procedure.

Status: Approved

The master document is controlled electronically. Printed copies of this document are not controlled. Document users are responsible for ensuring printed copies are valid prior to use.

In particular it looks at the likely impact of the proposal on service users and/or staff who have one or more characteristic protected by the Equality Act 2010.

10.7 Equality Delivery System2 (EDS2)

EDS2 is the tool that supports NHS organisations to improve the services they provide for their local communities and provide better working environments for all groups.

10.8 Equality Monitoring

This is the process by which the Trust asks for and gathers personal information from patients, service users and staff.

10.9 Public Sector Equality Duty (General Duty)

The equality duty was developed in order to harmonise the equality duties and to extend it across all of the protected characteristics. It consists of a general equality duty, supported by specific duties which are imposed by secondary legislation. The general duty applies to all public authorities, including the NHS, and these organisations must, in the exercise of their functions, have due regard to the need to:

- Eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment and victimisation and other conduct prohibited by the Act;
- Advance equality of opportunity;
- Foster good relations.

10.10 Public Sector Equality Duty (Specific duties)

The specific duties are to help public authorities meet the general duties. In England, these specific duties are:

- Publish equality information – including information relating to protected characteristics for people who are its employees and are affected by its policies and practices. This should be published every year.
- Prepare and publish equality objectives – these should be specific and measurable, and should be published every four years.

10.11 Reasonable Adjustments (part of the Equality Act 2010)

An 'adjustment' is a change. This can be a physical change or a change in the way something is done. 'Reasonable' will depend on a number of circumstances but the tests include:

- How much will a reasonable adjustment reduce the disadvantage?
- The practicality of the change
- The financial (and other costs) and the extent of any disruption caused
- The extent of the Trust's financial and other resources

Status: Approved

The master document is controlled electronically. Printed copies of this document are not controlled. Document users are responsible for ensuring printed copies are valid prior to use.

Although the Trust must consider reasonable adjustments for employees who have a disability or are pregnant, it is best practice for them to be considered for all employees to facilitate attendance and implemented where service delivery allows.

10.12 Bullying

There is no single definition for bullying, but it may be defined as follows:

Persistent, unjustified behaviour – either physical or non-physical and often involving a misuse of strength or status – to intimidate, humiliate, harm, or cause loss of confidence to another group or individual.

10.13 Harassment

Harassment is unwanted conduct related to any of the nine protected characteristics or other characteristic such as political belief, trade union membership or other belief, social origin, association with a minority, domestic circumstances, property, birth or other status, which has the purpose or effect of violating an individual's dignity or creating an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment for that individual.

Please see the Trust's Dignity at Work Policy (incorporating bullying & harassment at work) for more information.
